

Mental Health Center of Denver

KRISTI MOCK, MSW, LCSW

PRESIDENT & Chief Operating Officer

AS THE CHIEF OPERATING OFFICER, Ms. Mock oversees internal operations for the Mental Health Center of Denver to ensure efficient, effective and high-quality mental health service delivery. In this role, she is a primary advisor to the Chief Executive Officer on matters related to internal operations.

Ms. Mock thrives in interacting and connecting with others to problem solve and reach solutions. She is appreciated for her ability to execute overarching strategic visions by breaking down tasks and prioritizing what is needed to keep the organization moving forward in today's rapidly shifting healthcare environment.

With a lifelong interest in psychology and social work and a keen desire to help others, Ms. Mock has worked in a variety of roles within the Mental Health Center of Denver for 35 years. In her former role as Vice President of Adult Recovery Services, she was responsible for administering adult services for persons with serious mental illness. She has led the expansion of community-based behavioral health service delivery for persons with mental illness, including access to service, outpatient treatment, crisis services, intensive case management services, housing/residential services, trauma-informed treatment, integrated substance use treatment, and integrated treatment services for offenders.

Ms. Mock has held pivotal roles in the Mental Health Center of Denver's recovery and well-being transformations. She attributes her success in having the opportunity to work with great staff and the amazing people served; the opportunity to influence systems and structures; the opportunity to create new services and programs; and ultimately the opportunity help someone have the life they dream of having.

Ms. Mock received her MSW from the University of Denver in 1983, and in 2017 the University of Denver honored her with the Robert L. Hawkins Social Work Achievement Award. She and her husband have enjoyed raising two wonderful grown daughters in Colorado.
